

Informed Opinion Game

Number of Players:

2-5 per group

Materials:

Informed Opinion Cards

Directions:

1. Print and cut out the cards.
2. Place the cards in a deck face down.
3. Player 1 turns over one card and reads the card out loud.
4. Going clockwise, each player says one question they would like answered in order to make an informed opinion about the newspaper headline presented on the card.
 - a. TIP: Think about what you do not know. What do you need to know to form an informed opinion?
5. The round ends when a player can't think of a relevant question to ask within 5 seconds of their turn starting. The player loses this round and collects the card.
6. Repeat steps 3-5 until all the cards have been read. The player with the least number of cards at the end of the game wins.

'McDonald's is stealing your money!':
Automatically Charges for More Expensive Option If Customer Doesn't Specify

United Airlines will debut a new boarding order to save time

US military asks the public for help finding its missing F-35 fighter jet after its pilot had to eject while training over South Carolina

'Bone Smashing' TikTok Trend, Here Are Dangers Of Hammering Your Face

Plant Fungus Infected a Human in First Reported Case of Its Kind

A store let customers steal shoes – if they could outrun a pro sprinter

New Chesterfield background check policy may allow convicted violent felons to become youth sports coaches

Panera's 'charged lemonade' cause of college student's death, lawsuit states

All Onewheel electric skateboards recalled after four deaths and multiple injuries reported

I'm a 'rent-a-mom' for Gen Z college students – parents pay me $10K to cook, do laundry and bail them out of jail

Billions of crabs went missing around Alaska. Scientists now know what happened to them

Woman sues Disney World, claims severe 'wedgie' injury on Typhoon Lagoon slide

